Release Notes 2.2.0
September 5, 2004

The following items have been moved (migrated) to Production for use by Agencies beginning on September 5, 2004

- A fix was applied to the tenure process to resolve issues when running the process any day besides the first day of the pay period. The tenure process was inserting rows using the system date as the tenure as of date. This caused issues for employees who also received an Auto WGI, because the tenure row did not have the WGI information. The problem has been resolved so that the correct effective dated row is inserted. In addition, the program was updated so the conversion date equals the effective date of the tenure versus the effective date of the tenure plus one.

- An online PeopleCode edit was applied to control the job indicator field (primary/secondary job). The code will force the employee to have one primary job even when the employee has multiple appointments. The code also evaluates and forces the employee to have one primary job when there are hire/re-hire actions on multiple appointments. The user does not have to take any action to update the job indicator field.

- A fix was applied to the WGI Notice process so that retroactive WGI Notices are created.

- Updated PAR Remark A04 was updated with new remark effective on 7/25/04. The remark now states:
